JULY 4 2005,

Examiner: Mr. Sebastiano Passaniti
Art Unit: 3711
Application Number: 10/614,579

Hello again Mr. Passaniti,

I submitted for your approval 10 new claims numbered 11-20. I also made a word change to the abstract and added, "off-center" this is in the specification.

The new claims, I believe are patentable and best represent my invention over other inventions in the same category.

The swivel head putter is a very simple mechanical device that moves when hit off-center by a golf ball. All other moveable putters that I am aware of are moved manually to adjust for loft. They are not made to move when hit or to show the amount of movement when hit. This is easy to understand since golf clubs are designed for the ball to move not the connecting parts of the golf club.

That alone separates them from the swivel head putter.

The swivel head putter is a training aid to improve the golfers putting indoors or out without any fancy equipment or batteries. Also it is as portable as a conventional golf club.

It is with these reasons in mind that the new claims are submitted for your approval.

I also included a "signed a letter to ratify and a certificate of mailing".
